INTRODUCTION

This guide will show you how to remove your laptops battery. This process requires no tools; just your hands! When doing this, make sure that the device is powered off and not hot from recent usage.

Step 1 — Battery

- Lay your laptop upside down on a flat surface.
- Power off your laptop and unplug the charger.

⚠ Make sure you allow the laptop time to cool so that you aren't removing a hot battery.

Step 2

- Locate the right eject switch, labeled "1".
- Slide the switch all the way to the right and it should stay in place.

Step 3

- The second eject switch is on the left and it is numbered "2".
- Slide the switch to the left and remain pushing on it, because unlike switch "1" it will not stay in place on it's own.

Step 4

- With hand still pushing the left switch, grab onto notch at the center of the two switches.
- Pull up and towards you. The battery will begin to lift out of the device.

Step 5

- The battery can now be pulled out entirely. You are ready to replace it.

To reassemble your device, follow these instructions in reverse order.
